Fr. John Paul's Spiritual Brew

Heaven and earth will pass away, but my words will never pass away”

We see time passing...., and sometimes we are aware of its speed.... but, most of the time we are not. When life is busy... so many things just fly pass us.... Many of these things are important... and others are not...

For the things that are valuable, they pass us by.... And, we can feel a deep hunger that stays with us despite our busy lives... These beckons us... to breathe... and, to listen... to the Spirit of the Living God... WHO is seeking to fall upon us..

When we take the time to stop.... and, to simply breathe in.... God's grace-filled care..... It finds a home within.... which heals and renews us.

In today's Gospel Jesus invites us to allow his Word to find a place within our being - to serve as an anchor to ground us - in a world that is 'passing away' and changing daily....

In what do we place our strength, and find foundation? In shifting sands..., or the Spirit of the Lord... who has anointed us?

May these last days of the liturgical year offer us a moment to pause among all of our 'maybes' 'shoulds' and 'oughts' to minds, hearts, and souls - connected to the Living Word of the God... that has the power to do more "than we can think or imagine." Amen!
