Fr. John Paul's Spiritual Brew

November is a month set aside for remembrance—a time when we hold close the memory of our beloved who have gone before us. As a Church, we gather throughout the world to celebrate the feasts of All Saints and All Souls, uniting our prayers with those holy women and men who, across the centuries, have lived as true “friends of God.”

In today's Gospel, Jesus reminds us of the posture of a disciple. He tells us not to lead from a place of exaltation, but from humility. Titles, positions, or honors—while sometimes entrusted to us—are not ends in themselves. They are gifts from God, given so that we might serve. To be a disciple is to use whatever role we hold as a mirror of God's love, expressed in both word and deed. At the heart of our calling is the title we all share: Christian, disciple, servant of God. Through these names, we grow in friendship with the Lord by loving God, neighbor, and ourselves—with everything we are and everything we have. If we seek this grace daily, humility takes root within us. True humility grounds us in God, and it is this grounding that enables us to remain charitable in all circumstances.

May the prayers of that great “cloud of witnesses”—the holy women and men who have gone before us—keep us firmly rooted in God's love, so that we too may reflect that love in our world.

Amen! Alleluia!

Letter from Fr. John Paul

Dear Students, Alumni, Friends, and Members of the Newman Community,

This year marks a sacred milestone in the life of our Newman Center—100 years of faithful, loving ministry to the students, faculty, and community of the University of Arizona. As we look back with gratitude and ahead with renewed purpose, we are filled with awe at all that God has done—and continues to do—through this vibrant spiritual home.

Our theme for this historic year, “May we be one,” draws from Pope Leo XIII’s call that “One in Christ, we are One.” In a world that often feels fragmented and divided, this call to unity in Christ is not just timely—it is essential. It reminds us that our faith is not lived in isolation, but in communion—with God and with one another.

As we enter our centennial year, we’re witnessing a beautiful and Spirit-led renewal at Newman. Our student community is growing—more young people are seeking the Lord, finding joy in authentic community, and responding to His call in new and courageous ways. Grad students and young adults are stepping into leadership and deepening their roots in the Church. Resident members continue to be the steady heart of our liturgical and spiritual life. And our alumni and friends carry the light of Newman far beyond Tucson, shaping the world with lives of witness and love.

This flourishing would not be possible without the support and prayers of so many. We are especially grateful to the members of our Sustaining Board, Newman Foundation, Resident Community, Young Adults, and beloved Students, whose generosity of time, resources, and care continues to be a vital force in helping us fulfill our mission.

As we celebrate this centennial year, let us give thanks for all who have come before us, and commit ourselves to carrying their legacy forward. May this be a time of recommitment—to faith, to unity, to joyful witness. May the Spirit of Christ continue to stir our hearts and move us outward, together, in mission.

With deep gratitude and hope,

Fr. John Paul Forté, OP

National Vocation Awareness Week

At the close of National Vocations Awareness Week, November 2 thru 8, we pause to be mindful of all the men and women who have dedicated their lives to the service of the people of God. Today we welcome you all to a special liturgy of thanksgiving to honor the men and women whose vocation was inspired and nurtured by the local Parish and School communities in the Diocese of Tucson. We are grateful for their generous response to God's call with their vocational dedication and service to the People of God. We also recognize the many faithful people whose encouragement, interest, and prayer helped your men and women to identify, and embrace their vocations to the service in the Church.
