Fr. John Paul's Spiritual Brew

It's hard to believe that Palm Sunday is just a week away! Where has this Lenten season gone? It feels like Ash Wednesday was just yesterday, when we were still figuring out what to "give up" or "take on" for Lent. I hope this season continues to be a time of renewal and deeper awareness for each of us. I pray that we have taken the opportunity to listen for Christ's call to "Come forth"—to step out from whatever cave of darkness, unhealthy habits, or burdens have trapped us, and to walk toward the freedom of a life that truly reflects God's presence within us.

In today's Gospel, Jesus steps into the "stench of death" that surrounds his friends—Lazarus, Martha, and Mary. He enters fully into their grief, even to the point of shedding tears, yet he also proclaims with power: "I am the Resurrection and the Life." with these words, Jesus calls Lazarus back to life and invites the community to take part in his healing: "Unbind him, and let him go free." Every time we gather for Mass, receive the sacraments, or seek God's mercy in confession, we are reminded that Christ is with us—his real presence! We are never alone.

As we enter this final full week of Lent, may we strengthen our resolve—to embrace healthier habits, let go of unnecessary drama, and grow in acts of love and charity. May we open our ears, hearts, minds, and souls. And like Lazarus, may we find the courage to step out of fear and "Come forth" when Christ calls us. May we be unbound—and truly set free... so that we can help 'untie the burdens' of others. May We Be One!

Amen! Alleluia!

NATIONAL SISTERS' WEEK

Sisters have had a presence in Arizona since before statehood and before the diocese was formally established. Among the first were the Sisters of Saint Joseph Carondelet dating back to 1880. All religious orders are called to share and reflect the Good News of Jesus Christ. To do so, each religious order has a unique charism, or 'gift' given for the service of the Church, that informs its ministry and community life. A religious order's community is made up of either religious sisters or brothers who have taken the same vows and devoted themselves to the same ministry. Last week the Catholic Church celebrated our religious sisters. In the Diocese of Tucson, we are blessed to have 65 Sisters representing 17 religious orders. Today you can find Sisters at a handful of our Catholic schools and other communities supporting various ministries throughout the diocese. For example, Sister Lois Paha, OP, an Adrian Dominican Sister, is the Director of Pastoral Services, Formation, and Liturgy for the diocese. In Sonoita at the Santa Rita Abbey, a monastery, Sister Victoria Murray is the prioress; she is with the Order of Cistercian of the Strict Observance. Sister Gladys Echenique, OP, of the Dominican Sisters of Oakford, who works in the Office of Hispanic Ministry said, "For me, religious life is a loving and faithful response to God's invitation. Religious life is a sacred commitment, an offering of one's whole self in fidelity and service to the Church and the world." The Sisters of the Immaculate Heart of Mary originated in Spain. The order places an emphasis on education, evangelization, and prayer for the conversion of souls. Sister Jeanne Bartholomeaux S.C., with the Sisters of Charity of Seton Hill, "Every time I reflect on my life journey, I become more aware that God's call to Religious Life came first at Baptism." Sister Jeanne is a native of Tucson and has served in the Dioceses of Tucson and Phoenix for 49 of her 60 years that she has been a Sister.
