Fr. John Paul's Spiritual Brew

In the Feeding of the Multitude, we witness the extraordinary generosity of Jesus. He nourishes both body and soul, and not only is everyone fed, but there is an abundance left over. God's generosity is never merely enough—it overflows. It is hard to believe that we are already in the end of July! Summer always seems to move more quickly than we expect. Before we know it, students will be returning to campus, our ministries will begin anew, and we will be preparing to celebrate several of the most significant moments in the history of our Newman Center. As we look toward a new academic year, there is much to be grateful for and even more to anticipate. We look forward with great joy to welcoming new and returning students, continuing our Newman Center Centennial celebrations, and embracing the many opportunities God is placing before us. It is an exciting time to be part of the St. Thomas More Catholic Newman Center! Jesus, like many great teachers of His time, loved using parables. They captured people's attention and invited them into a deeper way of seeing. A good parable often follows three movements: it begins by orienting us toward something we think we understand, then gently disorients us, and finally reorients us toward what is truly of God. Over the coming weeks of Ordinary Time, the Sunday Gospels invite us to walk with Jesus through a beautiful series of parables and encounters that continue to shape our hearts as missionary disciples. Each week offers another invitation to trust more deeply, love more generously, and discover anew the beauty of God's Kingdom.

As we journey through these summer Sundays, may these Gospel lessons continue to prepare our hearts for the exciting year ahead. Soon our campus will come alive once again as we welcome new and returning students, celebrate 100 years of Catholic campus ministry at the St. Thomas More Catholic Newman Center, and continue the mission entrusted to us of forming missionary disciples rooted in the Spirit of Truth and the Love of God. Please continue to pray for our students, faculty, staff, alumni, benefactors, and friends of the Newman Center. Pray especially for our Centennial celebrations this fall, that they may not only honor our rich history but also inspire a new generation of students to encounter Christ and embrace His call. Let us also join our bishop in praying for an increase in vocations throughout the Diocese of Tucson. May the Lord raise up generous men to serve as priests of the Diocese, women and men to embrace the beauty of religious life, couples to witness the joy and fidelity of Christian marriage, and dedicated single men and women to live their vocation with holiness and purpose. Every authentic vocation enriches the Church and helps build up the Kingdom of God. Thank you for your continued prayers, encouragement, and faithful support of our Newman Center through your prayer, your time, your talents, and your financial stewardship. For one hundred years, countless students, alumni, parishioners, benefactors, priests, deacons, religious sisters and brothers, lay ministers, staff, volunteers, and friends have helped sow the seeds of God's faith, hope, and love on the campus of the University of Arizona. Together, we now have the privilege and the responsibility of carrying that mission forward for the next century.

May the Lord continue to bless our Newman family, deepen our communion with one another, and lead us ever more fully into His truth and His love. May We Be One as we give thanks for 100 years of Catholic campus ministry, celebrate God's abundant blessings, and joyfully prepare the next generation of missionary disciples.

Alleluia! Amen!
